On Jalan Uluwatu, just opposite the Intercontinental in Jimbaran, you will find a recent addition, a so-called hidden jewel to the Island of the Gods: Balique.

Balique Restaurant opened in November 2011 and is distinguishing for its Interior Decoration, all created by Zohra Boukhari herself.

Successful Interior Decorator Zohra Boukhari, acclaimed by journalists of Elle Déco, L'Art de Voyager, Madame Figaro, Cipria and many more, has been working in Bali for the last 17 years and is established for her original work and attention to detail. Balique has been her latest masterpiece, however she is also proud owner of Villa Balquise, awarded by the leading Japanese travel magazine Mook as "Hotel with Best Interior decoration" and Bistrot, her new acquaintance, opening in Oberoi end of July 2012.

The Menu served in Balique is a well-balanced mélange between Western-Mediterranean and Asian dishes, combining both Zohra's Moroccan heritage as well as the chef's Asian twist.

The open-space Balique is no usual restaurant you will find in Bali. Whether it is a drink on one of the Vintage sofas or an enjoyable dinner at one of the tables situated just next to the garden, the Interior Decoration provides the Wow-Factor that hypnotizes guests from all over the world. The secret about Balique's Interior Decoration is that the majority is antique; however each and every piece either was obtained by Zohra Boukhari.

On the one hand an extensive Drinks List, that meets any taste, may it be sweet or bitter, mild or spicy. On the other hand, Balique's international wine list, that reaches from French Champagne to South African Sauvignon Blanc and from Australian Shiraz to Chilean Cabernet Carmenera.

With the addition of a shop that can be accessed through the restaurant everyone can have a touch of Balique at home.

A new web-site on hold to be re-designed and launched soon and the everlasting strive of excelling and exceeding customer expectations is today's addition to Balique's short but steep rise to a successful restaurant.
